Family dazed over grand jury decision

BY ED LEPOMA

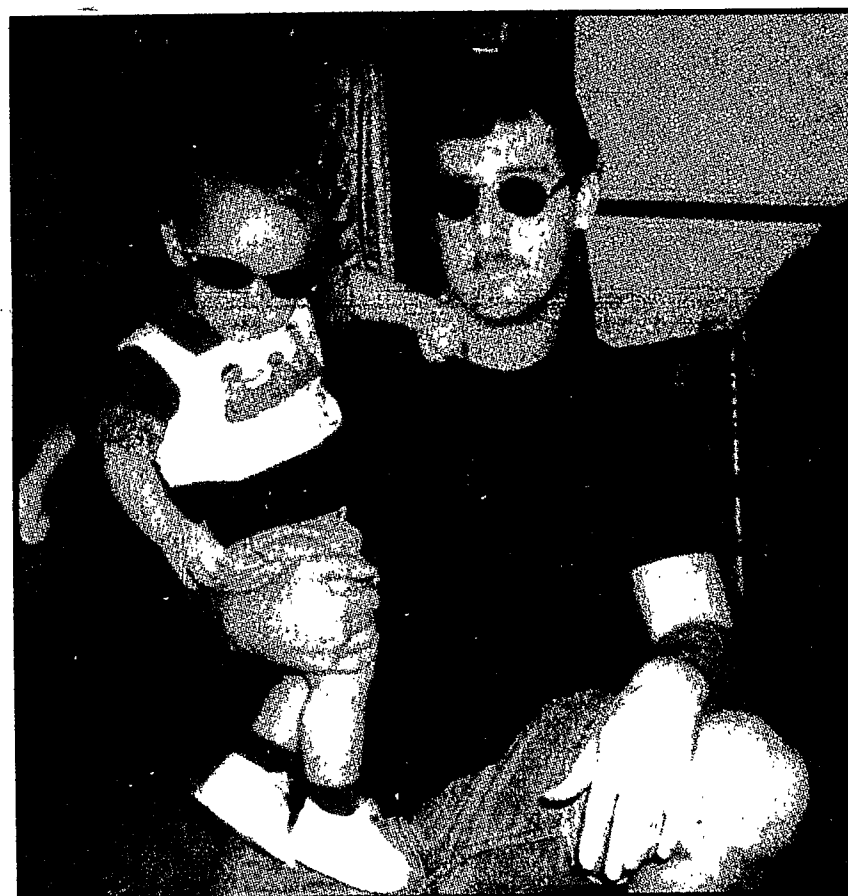

It won't bring Brett Lacoste back, but Kimberly Lacoste has vowed someone's going to pay for his untimely death.

After waiting for a month and a half, Lacoste learned Wednesday that a Harrison County Grand Jury had cleared Sheriff's Deputy Chad Sablich, 28, of any criminal wrongdoing in the accidental death of Brett, 26, a self-employed body shop repairman and stock car racer from Kiln, who was killed just before midnight Aug. 29.

Just hours before the fatal accident, Lacoste raced at the Sun Coast Speedway at Pass Christian. He was driving a 1987 Mazda pickup north on Firetower Road with his brother, Steve, on the passenger side, when the vehicle was broadsided by a 1992 Crown Victoria patrol car driven by Sablich.

The police report showed that Sablich was eastbound on Dubuisson Road on his way to a disturbance call at Menge Avenue, looked down to read a map on the car seat, and skidded past a stop sign, crashing at a high rate of speed into the Lacoste vehicle.

Several witnesses at the scene later gave statements saying that there were no headlights on the patrol car, no blue lights flashing on the

FEMA encourages residents to apply for aid

BY ED LEPOMA

Hancock County's Disaster Relief Center closed Saturday, but the toll-free number is still available for assistance, along with manned centers in Gulfport and Pascagoula.

There was one person using one of the telephones at the Civic Center on Longfellow Drive Friday morning when the Echo paid a visit, and FEMA spokesman Ken Kennedy said the Hancock Center planned to shut down at 4 p.m. Saturday.

He said a total of 215 Hancock County residents came through the center for various assistance since it opened on Oct. 10. Kennedy said most applicants were seeking aid for minor home repairs not covered by insurance, but there was no great demand for temporary housing.

"That demand was highest in Jackson County where they had major damage and flooding," Kennedy said.

FEMA's Media Affairs Officer, George Thune, issued a fax, stating that a total of 755 Hancock County residents had applied for some type of assistance through the toll-free hotline, although only 215 actually came through the center. Thune said 27 housing grants were approved in Hancock County representing a total of $48,315. In contrast, 8,207 applied for assistance in Jackson County, and 757 housing grants were approved, amounting to $1,485,869.

"As of Friday," Thune said, "A total of 18,240 Mississippians have called FEMA's toll-free number...over $3.1 million has been approved in federal grants and low-interest loans to more than 1,500 home owners, renters and business owners."

Thune added, "A total of 1,395 grants, representing $2,575,492 in grant monies have been approved by FEMA for disaster housing assistance. FEMA's individual and family grant program has approved $365,310 in grants for 136 applicants. The U.S. Small Business Administration has approved 11 low-interest loans to individuals and business owners, totaling more than $180,400."

Beginning today, applicants still needing assistance should call 1-800-462-9029 or 1-800-462-7585 (for the speech or hearing impaired) from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. until further notice. The phone lines will operate seven days a week.

In addition, disaster centers will remain open in Pascagoula and Gulfport, but with adjusted hours.

Gulfport and Pascagoula centers will be open from 8 a.m.-7 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. on Saturdays. They will be closed on Sundays.

Since the President's Oct. 1 disaster declaration, 16,803 individuals and businesses in 15 Mississippi counties have registered for assistance.

Kennedy said the numbers are overshadowed by the damage inflicted by Hurricane Georges on Puerto Rico. He had a survey sheet showing that already 134,397 had applied for housing assistance in that U.S. territory.

The stark images of a sequence of young teenagers shooting to death their fellow students stunned the nation last year. Whether the incidents represent a new trend or were just a series of terrible tragedies, they have raised important questions about how well Americans are addressing the needs of the nation's children. "Straight Talk with Derek McGinty" presents a live call-in show, "Kids in Trouble," that examines the challenges of parenting troubled teens, how to spot early warning signs and what families can do to get their children back on track.

The program airs on ETV Monday, Oct. 19 at 8:30 p.m.

Bill contains $102 million to repair Mississippi installations

The Omnibus Appropriations Bill contains $102 million to repair or replace Mississippi military facilities which were either damaged or destroyed in Hurricane Georges, U.S. Senators Trent Lott and Thad Cochran of Mississippi, said.

"Many military families suffered significant losses when their on-base housing was flooded or hit by falling trees," Lott said. "Keesler Air Force Base, Naval Station Pascagoula, Gulfport's Seabee Base and Air/Army National Guard bases also suffered damage to base infrastructure."

"Fortunately, the timing was right to include sufficient supplemental appropriations to fund the emergency costs to repair or replace these military facilities. Our Air Force, Navy, Army and National Guard personnel play a key role in hurricane warning, preparation and recovery. Their service to our coastal communities is indispensable in a hurricane's wake."

Senator Cochran said: "I am pleased that the Congress will provide this emergency funding to repair damage to Mississippi's military facilities. This will help ensure that Mississippi's defense facilities, and the men and women who serve and live at these installations, will continue their important contributions to our national security."

Forty-two million dollars was added to buy the electric power lines at Keesler. It took more than a week to restore electrical power at Keesler due to several hundred downed pine trees which had fallen across power lines.

Though power was restored, it will take many more months and additional funding to fully repair the damage to Keesler's current above-ground electrical network. By funding this $42

Hancock High School laptop distribution begins

The Hancock County School District begins distribution of the StudyPro laptop computers Monday, Oct. 19.

Members of the Hancock High School senior class and TechnoHawks are among the first to receive their laptops.

The computers will eventually be distributed to all classes.

In January 1998, the Hancock County Board of Education approved the purchase of 1,100 StudyPro laptop computers from the NETSchools Corporation. StudyPro is a six-pound computer with a magnesium case, rubberhandle and bumpers, the ability to withstand temperature extremes, a mud-flap covering ports in the back and a Plexiglass screen.

The laptops, purchased from bond issue proceeds and state, local and district funds at a cost of $2 million, will allow students unlimited access to word processing, database and spreadsheet software.

In addition, the wireless units will be connected with 75,000 approved Internet websites, a server, and a printer via infrared caps in each classroom.

But the learning process won't end in the classroom — the laptops have a battery connection that allows students and their family StudyPro use at home.

MILTON C. BERNARD

Last week we talked about addressing the areas of concern existing in Ward 1 and all our city of Waveland. I think some of the major areas of concern are drainage, streets, water and sewer lines. This week let's discuss drainage. The main reason our streets and yards flood is that our main drainage ditches are not functional. The reason for this is the main drainage ditches need to be dug deeper and wider from the out flow point back to our secondary ditches. It is counter productive and useless to dig the secondary ditches first. In the process of digging the main drainage and secondary ditches there are existing culverts that need to be replaced by larger and functional culverts. Of course, in the process, easements and right of ways need to be obtained, some through private property and access right of ways have to be cleaned. After the right of ways are established they need to be maintained for future maintenance. Come on, let's start thinking twenty-first century! Hey, let's start somewhere and see some results. I think you will be surprised to see what a difference opening the main drains will make. The "just talking about it" days are over; the time is here and now to make things happen. So let's go! Remember, it all begins with leadership.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

High school classmate Gerald Gex told me several weeks ago that he had just celebrated a 50th anniversary.

I asked him just what anniversary had he celebrated, and he said his 50th year of using insulin.

Then I recalled when we were in school and he had to go on insulin because of being a diabetic.

I am sure there are others who have been taking insulin longer, but to my knowledge Gerald has been on it longer than anyone else I know.

Gerald has to be one of those people who follow his doctor's orders.

Those cool mornings have really been nice following the long hot summer and hurricane.

I sure wish we could "bottle up" past week's weather and keep it around for a month or so.

Could it be that we deserve having some good weather following the storm?

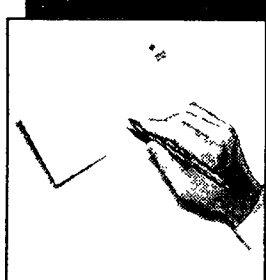

It is sure good to see some of the litter from Hurricane Georges being collected from our streets.

It seems our officials acted very fast in getting the contracts out compared to other counties and cities.

All residents are reminded that there is still a ban on burning in the county and cities.

There is still far too much dry debris strewn throughout the area.

So, remember the burn ban.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Putting the veterans first

Dear Editor:

By donating to the three new VA nursing homes in Collins, Kosciusko, Oxford, the nursing home in Jackson and the Mississippi VA hospitals, you will show the veterans that you appreciate the sacrifices they have made and are making in our behalf to insure and preserve the freedom we all enjoy.

Commitments made to our veterans and their families, by our federal government are disappearing on a daily basis as evidenced by the federal cut-backs in the veterans medical care.

These brave veterans who put their lives on the line and sacrificed their well-being to answer their country's call are now finding themselves left out on a limb with no safety net. As with many other things, our government is leaving it up to the American people to fulfill the government's obligations to the veteran.

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 in Bay St. Louis will be holding its annual Harvest Ball and Auction Friday, Nov. 13 at Post 139 in Bay St. Louis.

Proceeds will be distributed among the four Mississippi veteran nursing homes and four VA hospitals.

Your donations of cash or auction items will go a long way in helping us raise funds to provide these homes and hospitals with quality care, wheelchairs, much needed equipment to assist in rehabilitation, personal comfort items, etc.

If you can help, give me a call at 255-1264.

Your generosity and show of gratitude to the veterans will be greatly appreciated by all.

Sincerely,

Legislative budget panel weighs agency requests for FY 2000

Your calendar may say it's 1998, but members of the State Legislature are thinking about the year 2000 and how to plan for the possibility of economic changes.

Last week in Jackson, the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, which considers budget requests and develops a recommended budget for the Legislature, completed a month-long hearing with state economists, budget analysts and agency directors.

Frankly, the current economic news is good for Mississippi — more people than ever are working, interest rates are low, state revenues are growing. Final figures for Fiscal Year 1998, which ended June 30, show the State of Mississippi's budget is such good shape that we will have a $76 million surplus to start the 1999 Legislative Session.

But you read the newspapers and listen to the nightly news. Economic problems in Asia, Russia and possibly South America are troublesome. Our country and state's economic prosperity is tied to the world's economic condition.

For example, Mississippi poultry producers have been hit hard by Russia's problems. Asia's financial troubles hurt other agricultural export business.

And while cheap imports are good news for consumers, they put a lot of pressure on Mississippi manufacturers to be competitive — which means that corporate profits may take a hit.

That's all to give you the backdrop for the difficulty facing the State Legislature in developing FY 2000 budgets that must be prudent but effective even when the global economic situation is hard to read that many months ahead.

During most of October, the Legislative Budget Office staff will be refining and examining agency requests for FY 2000 and then in mid-November the Joint Committee will come back with spending recommendations for the 1999 Legislative Session, which begins Jan. 5.

If I had to pick one word to describe agency budget requests this year, I'd have to select "hefty." I haven't added up all the requests and compared them against the ones for FY 1999 (which is the fiscal year we're in now), but I'd have to gauge the total in the hundreds of millions dollars more than last year.

Clearly, many of these requests are legitimate. For several years, agencies controlled by the Governor's Office had been forbidden to ask for budget increases, even when they needed them. So now, the flood gates have opened, and they have made some enormous requests. Other agencies have been required by legislation to provide certain services, and that bill is coming due.

And naturally, we want to do everything we can afford to do to improve public education, highway construction, health-care and crime-fighting.

Developing a sound budget plan in the face of uncertain economics is not easy, but we will do our best to make the right decisions.

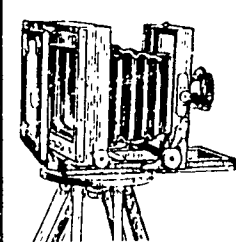

In addition, I am beginning to work on drafting bills for the 1999 Session. If you have special concerns that legislation might address, feel free to let me know.

Hancock County was prepared for the worst when Hurricane Florence breezed through early Saturday morning but reports later in the day indicated it caused no major damage. The Civil Defense, Hancock County Supervisors and Sheriff, Waveland and Bay St. Louis Police Departments all reported that no major damage had been done by the storm.

A federally assisted investigation has begun into the cause of a fire which consumed the St. Joseph's Gym adjacent to Our Lady of Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis Wednesday night. The investigation which began Friday morning was called to a halt early that afternoon as Hurricane Florence drew near the Coast.

What Ray Bordages described as "the worst fish kill I've ever seen," hit Hancock County waters this week, centered primarily around inland bayous. The mysterious fish kill, which has destroyed thousands of fish and crabs, apparently began Monday when local fishermen noticed increasing numbers of dead fish floating in the sluggish bayous. By Monday night and Tuesday morning, banks were thick with bodies of bloated fish, eels and other marine life.

Crabs at first feasting on the unexpected wealth of forage, were by Wednesday morning forsaking the tainted food and were seen crawling in large numbers onto the banks and boat launches, attempting to get out of the water. Bordages, who for years has operated a fishing camp and boat dock situated on Bayou Caddy a short distance from the Sound, said on Wednesday that although the fish kill occurs every few years in these waters, this is the worst he remembers ever seeing.

Bordages offered as a possible cause recent heavy rainfall followed by a lack of wind inundated salt water with an excess of fresh water. Another possible answer, in his opinion, was the introduction of some toxic sediment or refuse from marshlands into the bayous.

Miss America, Mississippi's Mary Ann Mobley, will tour the Gulf Coast cities Oct. 7, Bay St. Louis Mayor John Scafide said today. Miss Mobley will arrive that morning at the Gulfport airport and will be driven to Waveland where her tour will begin. After touring the coastal area as far as Moss Point she will be honored at a banquet that night. A planning meeting of coastal mayors will be Monday.

Six members of the Bay High School cheerleading squad will be on hand to lead cheers at the pre-game pep rally and parade through town at 7 p.m. Friday and game with Carriere High School at 8 p.m. The cheerleaders are Kathy Alliston, Mary Henderson, Lynne Hall, Virginia Breland, Joar McCulloch and Pat Kennedy.

Friday night, September 17, at 8 p.m. the Rock-A-Chaws of St. Stanislaus and the Tigers of Bay High will open the local football season on the Stanislaus field in Bay St. Louis. Athletic relations were started between the two schools last March when boxing teams met in a regularly scheduled match. They have never vied with each other on the gridiron, and due to the keen but wholesome rivalry existing between students and supporters a capacity crowd is expected to witness the game.

The regular sessions of schools in Bay St. Louis opened this week. Over 1875 students were in attendance at the Bay St. Louis schools. Mr. Sol Ingram, superintendent, reported the enrollment of the three schools at 675 students. Brother Alexis, president of St. Stanislaus, reported an enrollment of 407 students, 215 boarders and 192 day scholars. St. Stanislaus Free Day School opened with over 100 students. St. Joseph's Academy reported an enrollment of 340 students, 56 of these boarding students.

St. Rose de Lima Catholic School began the year with their enrollment near 200 students. Valena C. Jones School reported an enrollment of 150 students. Bay St. Louis, with a population of 5000 people, has three accredited high schools, members of the Secondary schools; St. Stanislaus, St. Joseph Academy and Bay High School.

We are counting on holding Community Fairs in a number of communities over the county previous to the regular County Fair which comes off October 10th and 11th. In the rural communities it is impossible for everybody to attend the County Fair, and by having a Community Fair in these various districts it will be a means of letting more people see what is going on about them, what their neighbors are doing, etc., and again it will be a means of getting a better exhibit for the County Fair.

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

"It was certainly time for me to get a haircut. After six weeks, there's just too much cotton on top to manage." I explained to a friend about the shortness of my hair.

"You mean that's not a piece? I always wondered. I always thought you wore a hairpiece!"

I began to giggle uncontrollably. "Come on! Touch it and run your fingers through it!" I invited with loud laughter. "Grab it and tug on it. Yes, this is the real stuff!"

My friend/parishioner, a very capable and reputable beautician, sheepishly ran her fingers through my hair, tugged on a few locks and declared: "I can't believe it! It is real!"

"I often wondered how many different-sized hairpieces you had, because sometimes your hair was very short, at times it was medium, then long, and once in a while quite long. Well, this explains a lot of questions I had in my mind."

I was as much or more startled than she was, to observe that a licensed, experienced beautician of many years was deceived for eight years by the silver thickness of my hair. If an expert falters, what about the rest of us?

Rhonda Aime-Grant seeks alderman seat

Rhonda Aime-Grant officially announces her candidacy for alderman of Ward 1 Waveland as a Republican in the Nov. 3 primary.

Grant is 40 years old, has three children, one grandchild and is married to Robert Grant. She graduated from Our Lady Academy, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College-Jeff Davis, and also attended the University of Southern Mississippi at Gulf Park.

Grant is a paralegal and began working in the legal field 18 years ago. She was appointed by the Hancock County Board of

"You know, I'm sure, I will be tempted to grin whenever I look your way while I'm preaching, praying or singing during the Mass. You must realize you have changed our relationship forever, both inside and outside the church."

How do other people see us? This one episode with the errant beautician is enough to give all of us serious pause. We tend to feel secure that what we see is what we get, and what other people see in us is what they get. Well, maybe not.

An enduring, substantial error during the entire span of an eight-year observation by a hair expert is enough to jolt into complacency we might have about our ability to discern the physical makeup of others. Don't even mention the spiritual.

Upon deeper reflection, we can hardly begin to imagine to what extent and depth our relationships with other people are affected, influenced and changed by distorted views they have about our body makeup, attitudes, personality and character.

Not that thick hair, a hairpiece or baldness makes a great difference in how we look at and appreciate each other. There are too many splendid human beings found in each category to quibble about accidents or to give weight to them.

Still, we are prone, often irresistibly inclined, to act and react according to the hard and fast conclusions we have made about others. This is especially dangerous where we will not allow any revealing facts to change what we see as true.

"Don't let the facts interfere with the truth," is the old way of describing our occasional rejection of evidence. Misinterpretation of evidence is all the more problematic in that we may be totally unaware of our misread.

In my case, there is far more room for innocent laughter, even in the sacred confines of God's house. I will forever wonder how many other churchgoers misread my hair, my face, my demeanor, my eyes, my words, my gestures, yes, all of me.

However, in the clone quarters of home, the misreads and questions are intensified a hundredfold. The last thing a spouse wants is to be constantly misread and misunderstood by the one person with whom she/he forms a most sacred covenant.

Just keep your senses, your mind and your soul wide open.

Supervisors as the first Justice Court clerk for Hancock County.

She is the daughter of E. V. "Gus" Aime and Janet Breland-Aime, and is a fourth generation Waveland resident.

When asked why she wanted to run for alderman, Grant said, "My family has been in Waveland for four generations. I know where we have been, but more importantly, I know where we need to go. That doesn't make me different or better than anyone else. What does set me apart is my passion and my ability to work with people."

Hancock libraries to celebrate Teen Read Week

It's an old story.

The four-year-old who begged for bedtime stories is now a 14-year-old more interested in computer games than opening a book. What started out as a magical adventure has turned into a chore.

To help change this scenario, the Hancock County Library System will join the Young Adult Library Services Association, the American Library Association and the National Education Association in sponsoring the first Teen Read Week, Oct. 19-25. The goal is to turn teens on to reading. The message: "Read... for the fun of it!"

"Librarians have long recognized that the teen years are a time when many children reject reading as just another dreary assignment," explained Prima Plaque, library system director.

"They stop reading. Test scores drop. Our goal is to remind teens that reading is not only important, but it's fun and it's free. They can do it anytime, anywhere. We also want to support parents and other adults in encouraging teen reading."

Plaque said the library offers many books, programs and other resources on topics of special interest to teens.

She also offered the following tips for parents:

- Make reading a family activity. Set aside a special reading time for the whole family, turn off the TV and make a bowl of popcorn.

- Ask everyone to share something they've read — a poem, newspaper article or chapter of a book to share over dinner.

- Reward reading. If a teen finishes a book, offer to buy another or talk about it over pizza.

- Ask your public or school librarian for books to entice reluctant readers.

- Read the same books our teenager is reading in school and talk about them.

- Be a role model. Let your teen see you read for fun as well as work.

She believes that in order to accomplish positive things you must check your ego at the door, take a good hard look at the issues facing the city of Waveland, then roll up your sleeves and get to work solving those issues. Not for just a select few but for all of the citizens of Waveland.

Dedication, hard work, truthfulness and a sincere determination are the only "promises" you will get from me during this campaign.

Rocks waste Warriors 42-3

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-hew football team looked like a well-oiled machine on Friday night in Hattiesburg. The Rocks wasted the Oak Grove Warriors 42-3 in Division 7 Class 4A action. With the win, the Rocks improved to 4-4 overall and 3-1 in the division.

The Rocks struck early and often in the lopsided win. SSC started the game on offense. Rock running back Kris Cannon carried twice for five and seven yards and gained a first down. Next, the Rocks went to the line when Jason Santiago connected with Brandon Lewis for an 11 yard gain and another first down. However, the offense stalled and punted away to the Warriors.

On the return, the Warriors fumbled and Lewis recovered for the Rocks at the Oak Grove 11 yardline.

Three plays later, Tom Brennan rumbled in from six yards out with 5:31 to go in the first quarter. Taylor LaFontaine connected on the first of his six PAT's of the night to make the score 7-0. The Rocks never looked back.

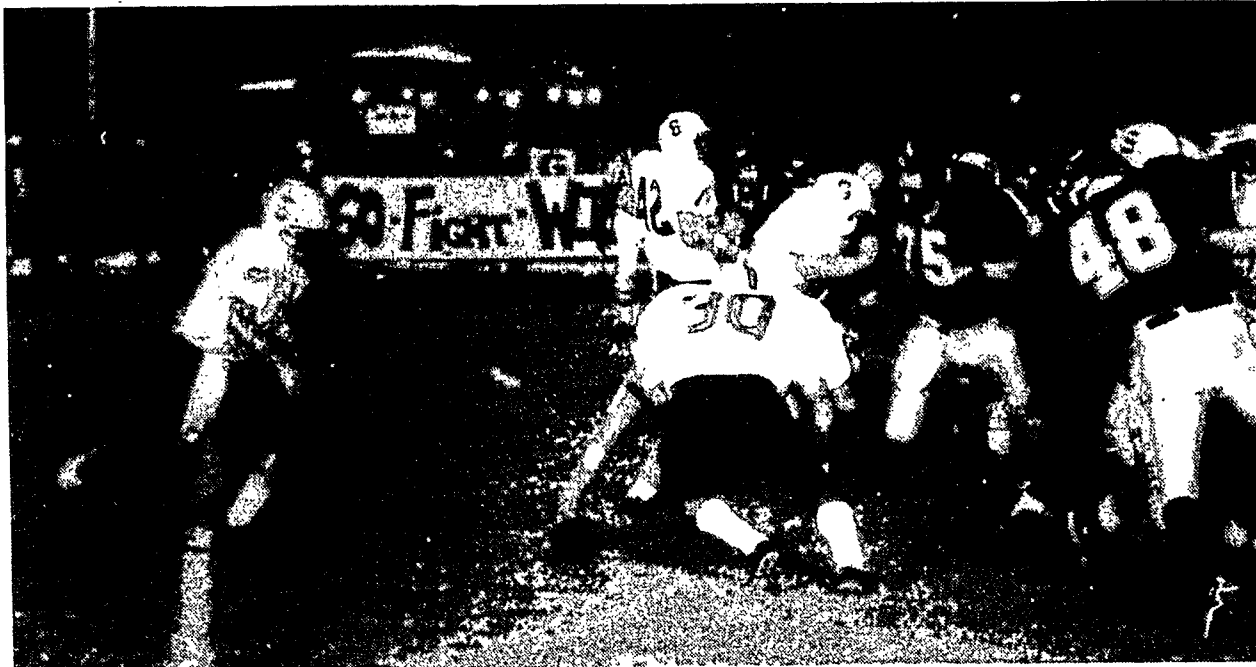

Charles Raymond kicked off for the Rocks for a touchback. Raymond kept the Warriors pinned at their own 20 yardline with his deep kickoffs. Only one of his seven kickoffs was returnable for the night and that possession started at the 23 yardline.

The Warriors could not muster any offense and punted right back to the Rocks. On the first play of the possession, Santiago hit Steven Knight on the sideline for a 40 yard scoring pass. LaFontaine nailed the extra point attempt. With 3:22 left in the first quarter the score was 14-0.

Knight got the ball back for the Rock offense on Oak Grove's first play of the possession by picking off a Warrior pass at the Oak Grove 30 yardline.

The Rocks wouldn't be able to take advantage of the field position as SSC turned the ball back over to the Warriors on an interception three plays later at the Warrior 10 yardline.

Oak Grove lined up on the 10 yardline and the Warrior quarterback was smothered by Brennan and Hunter Dawkins and fumbled at the five yardline. Michael Dauro recovered the loose ball for the Rocks at the Warrior one yardline.

Momentary loss

St. Stanislaus quarterback Jason Santiago (12) momentarily loses the ball Friday night in the Rock-A-Hew game against the Oak Grove Warriors. Offensive running back, Roger Ridgeway (30), covers the fumble. Rocks win 42 to 3. (Echo staff photo by Joe Gex)

Brennan plunged in for the one yard score on the next play with no time left in the first quarter. LaFontaine made the PAT and the score was 21-0. For the first time in eight seasons, the Rocks scored 21 points or more in a quarter.

The shell-shocked Warriors were not able to move the ball at all on offense and fumbled the ball away to SSC on a Brennan sack. Dawkins recovered the loose ball at the Warrior one yard line.

After an incomplete pass, Roger Ridgeway picked up his own fumble in the backfield and cut across the grain for an SSC touchdown from one yard out. With 10:09 left in the second quarter, LaFontaine nailed the extra point to make the score 28-0.

The Warriors made their first first down of the game on their next possession but the feeling didn't last as they punted away to the Rocks.

However, the Rocks stumbled a little on this possession and had to punt away to the Warriors. Ridgeway's punt was downed at the Warrior six yardline.

Aided by a Rock penalty, the Warriors were able to secure their second first down of the game. Two plays later, Ridgeway intercepted a Warrior pass at the Warrior 38 yardline and returned the ball for a touch-down with 1:13 left to play in the first half. LaFontaine connected on the PAT making the score 35-0 at the intermission.

Oak Grove received the ball to start the second half of play. The Warriors connected for a 45 yard pass play that brought the ball across midfield and into Rock territory for the first time in the game. A Rock penalty moved the ball 15 yards closer to paydirt.

However, the Rocks' 'Graveyard' defense took the life out of the Warriors and stiffened up to force a long field goal attempt. With 8:47 left in the third quarter, the Warriors missed a 42 yard field goal attempt wide right.

The Rocks tookover at their own 25 yardline but a penalty moved them back five yards. On the next play, Cannon broke free around the outside for an 80 yard scoring run with 7:07 left in the third quarter. LaFontaine nailed the extra point making the score 42-0.

With the game out of reach, Coach Dave Kenson began to shuffle in his younger players. In this situation, Oak Grove mounted their only extended drive of the game.

On a take punt from their own 33 yardline, Oak Grove completes a pass for 16 yards and a first down.

Four plays later, the Warriors punt the ball away to the Rocks. SSC fumbles on the return and the Warriors recover the ball at the Rock 15 yardline.

Three plays later, the Warriors attempt a 32 yard field goal. The kick was good making the score 42-3 with 10:22 left to play in the game.

The two teams traded possessions two more times each to end the game. SSC head coach Dave Kenson stated, "Our defense played hard all night and forced Oak Grove into bad situations. Jason Santiago threw the ball well for the second week in a row. He had good accuracy with his throws tonight."

"We made some big plays on offense tonight and took advantage of the Oak Grove mistakes."

Cannon rushed nine times for 114 yards for the Rocks. SSC remains in a two-way tie for second place in the Division 7 Class 4A playoff hunt with the Picayune Maroon Tide.

Officers find gill nets

Illegal fishermen gradually are being put out of business along the Gulf Coast, according to the Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

Wednesday, Oct. 14, DWFP marine enforcement officers confiscated an array of illegal fishing nets in Mississippi coastal waters.

While on regular patrol, officers Ray Luevano and Richard Cooley came across eight untended and unidentified gill nets. The illegal nets were located in areas between Heron Bay and Jose Bay near the Alabama state line.

The officers reported that the nets contained numerous large redfish and flounder.

According to agency spokesman James Walker, the illegal nets will be considered marine litter and will be destroyed.

"We are asking the public's help in spotting illegal fishing nets by calling toll-free, 1-800-BE-SMART," he said.

Officials say the nets ranged from 200 to 800 feet long. Each is generally valued at about $3 per foot.

SEA-COAST ECHO—SUNDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1998

Deadline nears for IRA conversions

The introduction of Roth IRAs this year spurred a barage of investor interest. One of the largest mutual fund companies experienced a 155 percent increase in new IRA business this year, more than half of which came from Roth IRAs. A leading brokerage firm whose IRA business was 300 percent higher in the first six weeks of 1998 than the same period in 1997 also attributed half of this increase to Roth IRAs. Money magazine even coined a new term, "Rothomania," to describe the phenomenon.

The big attraction of Roth IRAs is that you can withdraw your money tax free in the future—a feature not offered by traditional IRAs. This has caused many investors to convert their regular IRAs to Roths. In fact, a large percentage of Roth IRA business has come in the form of IRA conversions.

If you're considering converting your traditional IRA to a Roth, be aware that you'll owe taxes. Any deductible contributions you made to your regular IRA, plus all earnings, are taxable.

There is one break, however. If you make your conversion by Dec. 31, 1998, you don't have to claim the taxable amount all at once. You can spread your tax liability over the next four years. If you convert after 1998, however, you will have to claim the full taxable amount as income in the year you make the conversion.

Should you convert your traditional IRA to a Roth? That depends. For one thing, you can't convert to a Roth IRA if your adjusted gross income exceeds $100,000. This is the limit for both single filers and married couples filing jointly. A married person filing sepaately cannot convert.

If you're near retirement, the taxes you pay on conversion may outweigh the tax benefits you'd receive when you withdraw the money. But younger people with small IRA balances may be good candidates for conversion, especially if they convert by Dec. 31, 1998. Just be sure you have money outside your IRA to pay your tax liability.

Roth IRAs and traditional IRAs offer different benefits. Roth IRAs feature tax-free withdrawals and no required minimum distributions. Regular IRAs, however, offer deductible contributions for many people. Whether you should convert a regular IRA to a Roth depends on a variety of factors that should be weighed carefully by you and your financial professional.

Whichever option you choose, you can be certain that the tax-deferred growth offered by all IRAs still makes them one of the best retirement-planning vehicles around.

Michael J. Rhoses, president of American Security Bank of Ville Platte, La., and Leo W. Seal, Hancock Holding Company president and CEO, jointly announced the execution of a definitive merger agreement finalizing Hancock Holding Company's acquisition of American Security Bancshares of Ville Platte Inc. (American Security) and subsidiary American Security Bank (ASB) in Ville Platte, Evangeline Parish.

The agreement — approved by both banks' boards of directors — outlines the merger as an exchange of 672,000 shares of Hancock Holding Company common stock based on the company's current stock price and $13.8 million in cash for all outstanding fully diluted shares of American Security Bancshares of Ville Platte, Inc. stock.

According to the agreement, the transaction will be accounted for under the purchase accounting method.

"Hancock Bank has had a long-term interest in expanding into the central Louisiana region. We look forward to serving our new customers in this market with the stability, integrity and exceptional customer service synonymous with Hancock Bank and our holding company subsidiaries," said Seal.

Rhodes added, "American Security Bank now serves customers living throughout the United States. In order to manage the growth associated with our electronic banking division, we need additional resources.

This merger with Hancock Bank will facilitate this growth while at the same time enhancing stockholder value."

The parent company of Hancock Bank Mississippi and Hancock Bank of Louisiana, Hancock Holding Company has current total assets of $2.7 billion with 80 full-service offices and over 100 automated teller machines through banks in South Mississippi and Louisiana.

thrown from the vehicle, and he was pronounced dead at the scene. Steve was treated at the scene by an American Medical Response team and transported to Gulfport Memorial Hospital, along with Sablich.

Contacted at her work place by the Echo Friday, Kimberly Lacoste seemed dazed and bewildered by the decision of the grand jury.

"I just can't believe it," she said. "If the deputy would have been killed, Brett would be in jail for 20 years. They (the Sheriff's Department) have not heard the last of this," she said.

Lacoste said she has retained an attorney, and sent a letter notifying Harrison County Sheriff Joe Price that the family intends to sue the department.

Although they hadn't married, Lacoste said she and Brett had lived together for the past seven years and planned to marry in November. She had already legally taken his last name, and they had a house in the Kiln, and were raising their 16-month-old son, Brett Lacoste III.

Asked how the baby's doing, Lacoste said, "He asks for his daddy every day and every night. He goes to bed crying almost every night."

She said the victim's brother, Steve, is still in a great deal of pain. "He has no use of his arm or his hand" (on the right side), Kimberly said. He is undergoing physical therapy, she added.

Another relative, Brett's uncle Marvin Lacoste, was critical of the lack of sympathy shown by the Sheriff's Department and Harrison County's elected officials. He said not one single elected official had expressed compassion to the family.

About two years ago, Sablich graduated at the top of his class from the Sheriff Department's USM Law Enforcement Training Academy in Long Beach. He had been assigned to patrol duty for a few months before the fatal accident.

During the investigation, he returned to a training job at the Academy, where he remains employed.

SBA can help cover insurance deductibles, debris removal, landscaping costs

Homeowners, renters and business owners. Were you surprised by your significantly increased hurricane insurance deductibles? SBA wants you to know that it can cover those unexpected extra costs through its low-interest disaster loan program.

Your debris removal and landscaping costs may also be more than you expected, and SBA can help you with that, too. To get that help, you first must register through the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) at 1-800-462-9029. That's very important. Nothing can happen until you do that.

The next, and equally, important step, is to complete, and turn in, your SBA disaster loan application for consideration. SBA can't begin to help you unless you do that. If you are referred to SBA for low-interest disaster loan assistance, you must complete, and turn in your application for consideration. If you don't do that, most other forms of federal assistance will stop at that point.

If you have a question about SBA's loan program or would like some help with completing your application, you can get it at the Bay St. Louis, Gulfport or Pascagoula Federal/State Disaster Recovery Centers that are currently open.

Hancock County Historical Society Celebrates 6th annual Cedar Rest Cemetery tour

BY B.R. HAWKINS

The Hancock County Historical Society presents the Sixth Annual Cedar Rest Cemetery Candlelight Tour from 5 p.m. until 8 p.m. Halloween night Saturday, Oct. 31.

"This is the first time we have the tour actually on Halloween night," said Charles Gray, president of the historical society. "The Historical Society's Board of Directors started the cemetery tour six years ago to accomplish three main things. We wanted to stop vandalism. We wanted to focus attention on the historic aspects of Cedar Rest and we needed a fundraiser. The tour has accomplished all three."

Bay St. Louis resident Meg Hilliker undertook the task of mapping and researching the cemetery, which is maintained by the City of Bay St. Louis.

Short biographies were written to 'tell the tales' of the cemetery resident's lives, Gray said.

Each year the event involves a number of volunteers to put on the Halloween season pageant. "We have ten characters who dress in costume to portray our cemetery residents," said Karen Flores, Director of the Kate Labrano House. "We often try to get descendants to act in the roles. There are 20 volunteers who act as guides and then 10 ladies who host the refreshments and tour of the Kate Labrano House, 108 Cue Street, which houses the county's historical society, not to mention the small army of people who help us set up the event."

The one dollar donation will take visitors through the historical cemetery and the Kate Labrano House and will fund restorations and rehabilitations in the cemetery.

The society will have on sale their newest publication: The First 300 Years: History of Bay St. Louis for $13. The publication was printed in conjunction with Hancock County's Tercentennial Celebrations.

Last year, the event brought over 700 visitors to the cemetery, of which a portion was originally located on the corner of St. Charles Street and Beach Boulevard. "The cemetery would get washed away with regularity," Gray said. "So, it was moved. Several of the graves that were transferred will be featured in this year's tour."

The idea for the event is not original, said Pat Cuculla, one of the founding members. The program is patterned after an annual event in Columbus.

The traditional roster of the deceased includes Lorene Poillion, a five-year-old whose death was related to the over-consumption of green apples; Powhattan Robertson, a Native American who married a local man; Ginger Burke Paradise, a gypsy whose exact grave location is yet undetermined; the late Charles Breathe, a banker who died on fateful Halloween, and the irrepressible Kate Labrano whose family donated the Cue Street home that houses the historical society.

Visitors touring the candlelight event may hear the distant voice of gypsy queen Ginger Burke Paradise recount her death and her friends' celebration at her grave or the pride in Katrina Overall McDonald's voice as she remembers her father's participation in the 1892 Mississippi Constitutional Convention.

Whatever the story, there will be much to hear and see at the Cedar Rest Cemetery Tour.

Board of Directors for the Historical Society include Roland Schexnayder, Brehm Bell, Ames Kergosien, Edith Back, Meg Hilliker, JoAnn Mumme George, Marlene Johnson, and Kathy Benvenuti.

For more information, contact the Hancock County Historical Society at 467-4090.

 having an opportunity to discuss professional goals and challenges with other teachers Monday and Tuesday, when she joined 29 other teachers at the annual Mississippi Teacher helpful.

The two-day event, spon-available to all the state's District Teacher of the Year winners.

 "There is a true sense of unity here," the high school chemistry and physics teacher said.
 "All of us would like to take all of the energy and enthusiasm found in this room and carry it back to our schools, so it would have a contagious effect and other teachers would get excited."

Hancock Women's Club benefits community efforts

Hancock Women's Club holds regular business meetings the second Thursday of each month September through May.

Regular meetings may include a program or speaker from county or city government, community organizations or gift recipients.

New officers are installed at the March luncheon meeting beginning the new club year.

At the monthly meetings donations and contributions are taken to benefit the Hancock County Food Pantry and St. Vincent de Paul.

Hancock Women's Club had its beginning in January, 1980. A group of women, newcomers to the area, met with Marge Darling, Hancock representative of the Welcome Wagon club.

From that meeting, Hancock County Welcome Wagon Club was formed. In 1982 a motion was passed to become Hancock Women's Club.

Of the nine charter members only three are presently in the club. Since that time, the club has continued to grow with a current limited membership of 50. Present dues of $10 have been in effect since 1993.

As an outgrowth of the Welcome Wagon Club, Hancock Women's Club and its members have continued the ideals and objectives that were the foundation in 1980.

Members have the opportunity of taking part in community life by contributing their time and efforts for worthwhile civic, charitable and humanitarian projects, and at the same time forming new and lasting friendships.

Programs and activities also acquaint club members with helpful knowledge and understanding of the community.

The club's installation ceremony utilizes the colors of the rainbow to symbolize the functions of each office: red, love and warmth of feeling; blue, faith and trust; green, growth; gold, wealth.

For information, call Billie Jean Niver at 255-3806.

Education 'town meeting' re-scheduled for Nov. 5

A Gulf Coast "education town meeting," postponed because of Hurricane Georges, will be held in Gulfport Thursday, Nov. 5 at 6 p.m.

Hosting the public meeting will be the Senate Education Committee, which has held similar meetings throughout the state seeking public ideas to education proposals for the 1999 Legislative Session.

The meeting, expected to last about two hours, will be held in the Gulfport High School Auditorium at 100 Perry Street, one block off Courthouse Road.

"The Senate Education Committee feels it is especially important to spend some time prior to the 1999 legislative session in our districts touring facilities and visiting with students, teachers, administrators, parents and other interested citizens," said Sen. Grey Ferris of Vicksburg, committee chairman.

For information, or for persons who haven't already had their names placed on the agenda, call 601-359-3234 by Nov. 2.

'Dignity' oil on canvas

Waveland artist Joseph Anthony Pearson is one of several Coast artists to join several hundred Mississippi artists celebrated in the recent publication by the University Press of Mississippi entitled Art in Mississippi 1720-1980. The big book explores how art reflects the land and how modes of living and values dictated by Mississippi's changing topography created a variety of art forms. The book was written by Patti Cart Black and focuses on several hundred significant artists which includes many nationally acclaimed native Mississippians such as George E. Ohr, the mad potter of Biloxi, Walter Anderson, Marie Hull, Sam Gilliam and Richmond Barthé and many others. Pearson is represented by his painting, pictured above, called "Dignity" an oil on canvas 20"x24". "I believe this is an important piece because it more than anything I've done to date speaks the universal message of respect, both for oneself and others." Pearson is a recent recipient of the prestigious Pollock-Krasner grant. The book will be distributed and marketed worldwide giving all included international exposure.

MDEQ lifts advisory against swimming in Sound

The Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality (MDEQ) is lifting its advisory against swimming in the Mississippi Sound.

Based on results of samples collected late last week and so far this week, the agency believes it is now safe to swim.

Runoff caused by Hurricane Georges and subsequent rains washed untreated wastewater into the sound raising the bacteria count to unsafe levels.

According to Phil Bass, chief of Field Services Division at MDEQ, "Results at most sites were within or approaching acceptable levels late last week. Monday sample results give us enough information to determine that it is once again safe to swim in the Mississippi Sound.

Swimmers are cautioned to be careful because there still may be debris from the storm which could pose a hazard to swimmers. MDEQ reminds swimmers that it recommends staying out of the water for 24 hours after a significant rainfall event.

Regional center to celebrate 20th anniversary

The clients and staff of Project PRINTS of Hancock County will celebrate the 20th anniversary of the South Mississippi Regional Center with an open house at the Bay St. Louis Center, 296 Hwy. 90, Suite 14, beginning at 10 a.m. Monday, Oct. 26.

Project PRINTS, an acronym for Partnerships for Responsive Intervention New Newborn to School, works with children birth to three who are diagnosed with a developmental disability.

Students graduate when they transition from the early intervention program to their local school system or Head Start Center.

Administered by the Department of Mental Health, the program provides a wide range of services to infants and children who are experiencing delays and to their families. The goal is to minimize these delays and increase the potential for future development.

Services through Project PRINTS are provided by 17 staff persons including certified special education teachers, paraprofessional teaching assistants, speech pathologists, parent educators and a social worker.

Occupational and physical therapy may be provided on an as-needed basis. Services through Project PRINTS are free of charge and referrals are confidential.

Project PRINTS service sites are located in Bay St. Louis, Piquette, Long Beach, Biloxi, Keesler Air Force Base and Gautier.

The administration office of Project PRINTS at 867-1434 will provide information to parents interested in learning about the early intervention program.

Children enrolled in the program may exhibit delays in physical skills, speech and language abilities, educational developments, or a combination of these areas.

Admission into the program requires a current medical examination and identification of a developmental disability. An individualized educational plan is then developed for each child based on his or her needs and the needs of the family.

Research has shown that

Field Day rescheduled

The Hancock County Soil and Conservation District is sponsoring a Conservation Field Day for all the fourth grade students in the Hancock County area Friday, Oct. 30, at Buccaneer State Park.

"This is the 11th year we have sponsored this program," said Norma Dore, Hancock County SWCD information/education coordinator. "This year we expect approximately 650 students and 30 teachers attending this fun-filled educational program."

reaching children at an early age can have positive results in the child's home and in future school settings. The Project PRINTS staff works hand-in-hand with school districts to insure all children are prepared for school and that each child is prepared to achieve his or her potential.

For information locally, contact the offices of Project PRINTS of Hancock County, 295 Hwy. 90, Suite 14, at 228-466-0926.

Advertorial

Business Review

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail-order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you are looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday - Friday from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM., or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community.

The "WORD" for the Week

Dennis J. Prutow, Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

Romans 5:10 challenges us "For if while we were enemies we were reconciled to God through the death of His Son, much more, having been reconciled, we shall be saved by His life."

The word enemies refers to hostility or enmity. It hearkens back to Genesis 3:15. God said to Satan, "I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her seed; He shall bruise you on the head, and you shall bruise him on the heel."

God promised a child of the woman would crush Satan's head. Jesus Christ is that child. Christ is not a crackpot who got Himself nailed to a cross. He purposely went to the cross to defeat death and the devil.

Christ died to pay the penalty due to people like you and me for bad behavior and evil deeds. We must turn away from all known evil. We must trust in the sacrifice of Christ as the supreme act

which renews a positive relationship with God

The additional requirement for heaven is a perfectly good life. Jesus Christ met this prerequisite. On His way to the cross, Jesus Christ lived that perfect life free from all sin, evil and error. We must trust in the perfections of Christ. His faultless life, to gain us access to heaven. We are saved by His life.

Let Your Conscience Be Your Guide

Of all the different senses and feelings that a person has, one of the most important and useful is our conscience. A person with good upbringing and strong moral convictions is blessed because he or she can usually differentiate between right and wrong.

Behaving in a way that is pleasing to our Lord is necessary for a fulfilling and peaceful life. It is not always easy to do the things that we know are good and right, because it sometimes means that we have to get involved or make a commitment.

Sometimes when various situations arise, our first thought may be about how it will affect us, rather than about what is right.

Life is a test and we are being tested everyday by our actions, words, and thoughts. We should not become discouraged by our failings; but learn from them to make us better children of God.

IMS compiles teacher resources

More than 700 teachers from around the United States will have a wealth of marine science hands-on activities at their fingertips thanks to Institute of Marine Sciences educators at the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium in Biloxi.

IMS Associate Director Sharon H. Walker and marine educator Kimberly Damon-Randall of Ocean Springs are senior editors of the 290-page teacher's resource guide on oceanography and coastal processes.

Receiving the publication are more than 700 elementary, middle and high school teachers who have participated or will participate in the nationwide Operation Pathfinder and COAST (Consortium for Oceanographic Activities for Students and Teachers) summer institutes throughout the coastal United States.

Walker spearheads the COAST program and is a leader in the Operation Pathfinder program. The resource guide of 79 activities is the distillation of the "best of the best" of more than 1,000 lesson plans and teaching activities that teachers developed as "homework" on six topics presented in the summer Operation Pathfinder courses.

"We recognized early in the program that the lesson plans of fellow teachers were a valuable resource which should be shared," said Sharon H. Walker, director of the project. Walker is a professor in the Department of Coastal Sciences and administrator of the J. L. Scott.

At the request of the U.S. Navy, Walker organized the prototype for Operation Pathfinder in 1993.

The concept evolved into Operation Pathfinder, a program of summer institutes for elementary and middle school teachers of predominantly minority students in six coastal and Great Lakes regions.

The Pathfinder program expanded further to include undergraduate teachers-in-training and high school teachers through its inclusion in the COAST effort.
